

AP Language and Composition
Summer Reading 2023

Dear AP Language and Composition Students:

Welcome to AP Language and Composition! AP Language is a college-level course that introduces students to critical concepts in the study of rhetoric. A qualifying score on the AP exam, which will be taken in May 2024, may lead to receiving college credit. Summer reading is a critical component of your preparation for this course and for the exam.

Google Classroom Code: xrthssj

Assignment

Your assignment this summer will be to read a non-fiction text. You will complete an assignment based on the book when school begins in August.

Required Text

The Anthropocene Reviewed: Essays on a Human-Centered Planet by John Green, 2021, ISBN-13: 978-0525555216

If you have questions, please e-mail me at drew.timmons@spart1.org. I look forward to working with you this summer and next year!

Dr. Drew Timmons
drew.timmons@spart1.org