Instructor: Julie T. McAntyre & Holly Hollifield
Google Classroom Code: n7wpsu4

Students,

Congratulations on signing up for your first College-level English course! I am so excited as we take this first step toward your future together. The following are your summer reading assignment titles.

Packets with hard copies of the articles are available for those of you without accessible technology over the summer break. There are also Google Doc copies of each article in the Google Classroom if the link has issues (or asks for a subscription, etc.)

If you prefer, you may use your phone or PED to access the links. Either way, over the summer, please read the assignments below. I suggest taking notes and /or annotations as the first days/weeks of class you will have:

- *quiz on the readings
- *assigned timed writing(s)
- *in-class project

These in-class assignments will count toward your class participation/preparation grade (10% of the 1st nine weeks), so it is imperative that you engage and complete all readings.

This information is also available on our Chapman High School website.
